²It is not possible for Dal-Tile to create either HPDs or EPDs for our sourced products because of the large amount of proprietary data and detailed information required to make them.

³LEED V4.1, CHPS and other Green Building Rating Systems all state that ceramic tile and natural stone products qualify for Indoor Environmental Quality (EQ) credit point(s) without FloorScore or Greenguard Certification and without the need for any VOC testing or evaluation requirements. The product(s) listed in this Letter is(are) inherently non-emitting and do not contain any integral or post-fired organic-based surface coatings, binders, or sealants.

⁴The product(s) listed in this Letter contain no asbestos, no formaldehydes, no PFAS compounds and no added lead.

Please be advised that the information provided above is based on current manufacturing locations for any products listed as of the date of this letter. Since Ergon USA has multiple manufacturing locations and multiple vendors of sourced products, it is possible that this information can change for products that are delivered in the future.
